TORONTO: Nightingale Music (www.NightingaleMusic.com) a premier provider of music and sound effects libraries for multimedia, has extended the scope of its popular Voice Box Series with Volume 4 “Voice Drops”. Recorded to the highest quality cinematic standards and filled with over 750 elements from the human mouth, “Voice Drops” gives TV, film, radio/DJ’s, music and multimedia producers fast access to a wealth of highly useful and inspirational royalty-free vocal components for their productions.

Packaged on an audio CD and CD-ROM (.wav files), “Voice Drops” is thoroughly organized and documented, with the needs of today’s speed-searching multimedia producers firmly in mind. Media professionals of all stripes will find a rich source of vocal material, ranging from highly functional (multi-lingual alphabet and numerical countdowns) to wildly entertaining (rabid phone sex sessions) and everything in between. The 20 categories covered on “Voice Drops” include:

- Movie Lines
- Responses & Reactions
- Kids Stuff
- Foley (Laughs, Grunts, Screams, etc...)
- Letters & Numbers
- Radio Slug Lines & Listener Call-Ins
- Hip Hop Samples
- Humorous Insults
- Greetings
- Sayings
- Sex & Innuendo
- And Much More

Designed to bring maximum time and cost savings to media professionals, “Voice Drops” was produced under the strict supervision of Nightingale Music founder Caron Nightingale, a recognized composer, VO artist, music supervisor, and producer with over 22 years of music industry experience.

“‘Voice Drops’ represents one of our most labor-intensive collection yet, taking over 10 months and 1200 hours to complete,” she says. “These discs save media professionals time and money by providing them with essential vocal elements, including many things that would be exceedingly time-consuming and expensive for them to record themselves.

Whether its being used to replace sounds in Hollywood or independent film soundtracks, provide radio DJs with an arsenal of startling voice effects, or give musicians inspiring, expertly-recorded samples from top talent that they can use immediately, I can't think of anything in 'the Voice Box that wouldn't make their life a lot easier.'

The Nightingale Voice Box series and all other Nightingale Music libraries are available worldwide through Nightingale and its international sub-publishers. Available at an MSRP US of $129.00, Volume 4 "Voice Drops" follows the huge success of Voice Box Volume 1&2 "The Premier Collection", and Volume 3 "Just Kids and Babies", all of which are recognized as indispensable tools globally by all major film studios, large and small-market TV and radio stations, in-the-know music producers, Web/rich media developers and more.

Georgan Johnson-Coffey, President of Blue Vision Music, one of the industries leading sources of children's music for television, games, CDs, and millions of interactive toys, notes that Voice Box has been integral to several high-profile projects. "We have greatly appreciated the precise cataloging of Voice Box materials," Johnson-Coffey says. "It's a real time saver, but even more, it shows a quality product and the excellent customer service that Nightingale Music provides."

With Volume 4 "Voice Drops", the Voice Box series reinforces its position as the definitive source for royalty free vocal production elements. Whether film, TV, or radio professionals are in search of the perfect component to finish a project, or DJ's and music producers need the inspiration to get one started, "Voice Drops" is an essential tool to have on hand.

"We have been passionate about the Voice Box series since Day One, and to have the world agree with us about its usefulness is extremely gratifying," Caron Nightingale concludes. "My goal was to make sure our users have all things vocal at their fingertips, and with Volume Four 'Voice Drops', we've reinforced our place as the leader in voice production elements."
